TWO TUXEDO MEN TO MEET FOR TITLE
Pell and Mortimer Survive in National Racquets Championship.

BEAT BOSTON PLAYERS

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—Clarence C. Pell and Stanley G. Mortimer, both of the Tuxedo Tennis and Racquet Club, will meet on Tuesday in the final match for the national racquet singles championship at the local tennis and racquet club. They both won their semi-final matches to-day without great difficulty, Pell defeating H. D. Scott of Boston, while Mortimer vanquished Joshua Crane, also of this city. Both matches were decided in three games. The final promises to be an interesting one, as Pell and Mortimer are both strong players and have been successful in the past.

GARDEN NOW GREAT KENNEL

Ready for Westminster Club's fortieth annual show.
The task of changing Madison Square garden into a vast kennel for the fortieth annual dog show of the Westminster Kennel Club, which opens to-morrow morning, was completed last night after forty-eight hours of continuous work by three armies of men. Besides the kennelmen there were squads of decorators, carpenters and electricians, and everything is in readiness for the rush of the entries.

INSOLATION EVENTS ARE NO LONGER FASHIONABLE

The Way in Which Tennis Players Neglect Them Makes It Look as Though They Have Outlived Their Usefulness.

The evil of holding a consolation singles in connection with a championship or special tournament again cropped up as one of the main topics of discussion among followers of the tennis last week. The main reason for the resurrection of this matter was the consolation singles in the national indoor championship which will be finished at the Seventh Regiment Armory to-morrow. Practically all tennis players and those interested in the sport were unanimous in the opinion that the consolation singles had outlived its usefulness. Most of the bigger tournaments dropped it from their lists long ago. The reason for dropping the consolation was that it took up too much time and space. It was pointed out that the consolation singles had passed into tennis history and hence caused a great deal of trouble to the players and spectators.
